World Book Day Edition

World Book Day Thursday 4th March

World Book Day is always an exciting event in school and we are always amazed to see the creativity and imagination that goes into the production of amazing costumes. This year we decided to celebrate as usual but recognising that the day would be somewhat different.

It was different but the creativity and imagination was not lost and we were thrilled to see so many children (and staff) taking part and talking about their favourite stories during the week. Here are some examples of the fabulous costumes. Well done everyone and keep reading ...
